National Survey about Accessible Parking and Placard Abuse

AAPD (American Association of People with Disabilities) and NCIL (National Council on Independent Living) invites you to participate in a national survey about Accessible Parking and Placard Abuse.

Have you faced challenges when it comes to finding available parking? Have you been frustrated by parking spaces that are designated for people with disabilities but are used by those who don't need them? What other parking problems do you encounter?

If you require accessible parking and have a disabled placard or license plate, please take this 10 minute online survey on Accessible Parking and Placard Abuse to ensure your voice is heard.

It is important to complete the survey before it closes November 1. Results are being reported at a Stakeholder's Forum on Accessible Parking and Placard Abuse, December 6 in Washington, D.C. at the U.S. Access Board, the federal agency responsible for developing and updating the American Disabilities Act (ADA) Accessibility Guidelines.
